Weddings and Events in Scotland County

Are you or someone you know planning a wedding in the near future? If your answer is yes, chances are you will not be planning to say "I do!" in a church. According to Religion News, only 20% of weddings are now hosted in a religious congregation, while 80% are using other spaces. Today, there's a good chance you will be saying those two magic words in a home, public space, or more likely than ever before, a wedding or event center.

It's not surprising that more and more couples are using wedding and event centers to get married. Why? Because the convenience and cost management are just like that of customers who choose an all-inclusive resort versus an ala carte vacation.

The new changes in the wedding industry is impacting us locally as much as it is nationally. There are over a half-a-dozen facilities in Scotland County that specifically cater to special events and weddings. The best part--the options are growing. Brick & Mortar opened in downtown Laurinburg, and another facility is opening in the county. Not to mention other impressive facilities such as The Wallace, Scotch Meadows Country Club, Cypress Bend Vineyards, and the newly renovated Hampton Inn.

The reason behind this growth is easy to explain--the wedding business is enormous. In 2019 alone, the wedding industry took in $50 billion in the United States. Usually, wedding services are kept fairly local: photographers, bakeries, printing, attire, and of course, hotel expenses, all contribute to the economic impact of having a wedding locally.

Whether you are interested in a traditional facility, a vineyard, or a more rustic setting, Scotland County has the perfect place for you. To find out more about holding your wedding or special event in Scotland County visit www.carolina-bride.com
